CRRA Offers Scholarship to Shelton Students
$1,000 Grant Available to Engineering, Science Majors

SHELTON, Conn. – The Connecticut Resources Recovery Authority, in partnership with the Sports Center of Connecticut, is offering a $1,000 scholarship to a selected college student from Shelton.

The CRRA Shelton Scholarship is awarded annually to one Shelton resident studying engineering or the sciences at an accredited four-year college. Preference will be given to a student with a declared major in the environmental or energy fields. Previous winners are eligible.

To be eligible for the award, the recipient must be a Shelton resident and demonstrate
- academic achievement in high school and college;
- a record of community service; and
- an intention to pursue a career in environmental engineering, environmental science or another engineering or science discipline.

A downloadable application form is available at CRRA's Web site. Click to http://www.crra.org/pages/press.htm to find the link to the form. Applications are due Sept. 15, and the scholarship will be awarded later in 2005. Only Shelton residents are eligible.

The CRRA Shelton Scholarship is available through a special arrangement with the Sports Center of Connecticut located on River Road in Shelton.

The Connecticut Resources Recovery Authority is a quasi-public agency whose mission is to work for – and in – the best interests of the municipalities of the state of Connecticut. CRRA's new board of directors and new management team develop and implement environmentally sound solutions and best practices for solid waste disposal and recycling management on behalf of municipalities. CRRA also runs environmental and recycling educational programs through its Visitors Center and Trash Museum in Hartford and Children's Garbage Museum in Stratford.
