

CONNECTICUT RESOURCES RECOVERY AUTHORITY

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

September 10, 2007

Further Information:

Paul Nonnenmacher, (860) 757-7771

E-mail: pnonnenmacher@crra.org

Recycle Old or Obsolete Electronic Devices with CRRA State's Largest Recycler Offers 6 Fall Collections

HARTFORD, Conn. – The Connecticut Resources Recovery Authority, the state's largest recycler, has scheduled six residential electronics collections this fall.

Since CRRA began its electronics recycling program in 1999, 37,070 families have delivered more than 3 million pounds of electronics.

“CRRA’s incredibly successful electronics recycling program has provided Connecticut residents for the past seven years with the opportunity to safely recycle their computers and other electronics and now were expanding. That’s good for the environment,” said Thomas P. Gaffey, CRRA’s head of recycling.

CRRA contracts with Amandi Services, the nation’s leader in electronics recycling, to keep these items out of the waste stream. Amandi dismantles items into their raw materials, such as copper, steel, aluminum, glass and plastic, which are sold to processors who turn them into new products.

Information about Amandi’s processes can be found online at <http://www.amandi.com/dismantle.php>.

The complete fall electronics recycling schedule:

- Saturday, Sept. 22, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Norwalk Highway Garage, 15 South Smith Street. This collection is for residents of Bridgeport Project towns only.
- Saturday, Oct. 6, in Essex, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the CRRA transfer station, Town Dump Road (off Exit 4 of Route 9). This collection is for residents of Mid-Connecticut Project towns only.
- Saturday, Oct. 13, in Stratford, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the CRRA Garbage Museum, 1410 Honeyspot Road Extension. This collection is for residents of Bridgeport Project towns only.
- Saturday, Oct. 27, in Harwinton, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Torrington Water Pollution Control Plant, 252 Bogue Road. This collection is for residents of Mid-Connecticut Project towns only.
- Saturday, Nov. 3, in Hamden, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Hamden Middle School, 2623 Dixwell Avenue. This collection is for residents of Wallingford Project towns only.
- Saturday, Nov. 10, in Hartford, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the CRRA Trash Museum, 211 Murphy Road. This collection is for residents of Mid-Connecticut Project towns only.

Those interested in participating should call their city or town public works departments or visit http://www.crra.org/pages/project_map.htm to see whether their towns are eligible and which collection will accept their recyclables.

—more—

The Connecticut Resources Recovery Authority is a quasi-public agency whose mission is to work for – and in – the best interests of the municipalities of the state of Connecticut. CRRA’s new board of directors and new management team develop and implement environmentally sound solutions and best practices for solid waste disposal and recycling management on behalf of municipalities. CRRA’s four solid waste projects serve 118 Connecticut cities and towns. CRRA also runs environmental and recycling educational programs through the Trash Museum in Hartford and Garbage Museum in Stratford. For more information about CRRA and its activities, visit <http://www.crra.org> .